

IOSH Worker Introduction to Worker Involvement and IOSH Worker Involvement Plus

The Health and Safety Executive commissioned Premier Partnership to develop and deliver these courses to help organisations encourage employees to become involved in health and safety.

IOSH Introduction to Worker Involvement:

This is a two day course for health and safety representatives designed to give basic knowledge to establishing consultation and workforce involvement.

IOSH Worker Involvement Plus:

This is an optional one day follow on course further develops “people skills” and arrangements for improving workforce involvement– line managers are encouraged to attend to help address specific problems the organisation may be experiencing.

Delegates will receive a full IOSH certificate for successful completion of each course.
